My Story

I grew up in a good home. My mom held it down. But nobody around me knew about investing. We knew the basics: go to college or trade school, work hard, take care of family, save a little, get good credit, retire at 65. That was the whole playbook. Nobody taught us about dividends, compounding, or how to make money work for you instead of the other way around.

When I was a little kid, my cousin used to show me the stock market. I forgot most of it, but it stuck with me. At 17, I opened my Webull account. At 18, in October 2018, I made my first real investments and started posting my penny gains and losses. Later, in the Navy, an older man put me on real game. He handed me printed notes on index funds, and I studied them like a textbook. It changed my life. I've been building ever since. This blueprint is what I'm actually doing. You can start from $1. No gatekeeping.

> Real talk: I'm not a licensed financial advisor, and nothing here is personalized advice. This is my personal playbook, shared for education. The numbers are goals and historical patterns, not promises. Markets go down as well as up. Do your own research, and if your situation is complex, talk to a fiduciary.

Step 1: Open Your 4 Accounts

1. 401(k) through your job (HR sets it up). Always capture the full employer match. It's free money.
2. Roth IRA at Fidelity. Grows tax-free. The 2026 limit is $7,500/year.
3. Taxable brokerage at Fidelity. No limits, accessible anytime.
4. Crypto at Coinbase. Small, speculative slice only.

| APP | WHAT FOR | WHY |
|---|---|---|
| Fidelity | Roth IRA, brokerage, kids' accounts | $0 trades, fractional shares ($1 min) |
| Coinbase | Crypto (BTC, ETH, XRP, SOL) | Well-established US crypto exchange |
| Your job's site | 401(k) | Set up through HR, get the full match |
| HYSA (Varo, Wealthfront) | Savings | Emergency fund + tax money |

Step 2: Split Your Money

Your 401(k) comes out of your paycheck automatically. This is what to do with the money left after that. These are ranges. Adjust to your life, debt, and goals.

| ACCOUNT | % OF MONEY | WHAT IT'S FOR |
|---|---|---|
| Brokerage | 55-60% | Retire early: grows now, pays you later |
| Roth IRA | 20-25% | Tax-free for life. Max it yearly. |

| ACCOUNT | % OF MONEY | WHAT IT'S FOR |
|---|---|---|
| Crypto | 8-10% | Big upside, high risk. Keep it small. |
| Savings (HYSA) | 5-10% | Emergency fund + tax money |
| Kids' accounts | 5-10% | Generational head start |

| PER MONTH | BROKERAGE | ROTH | CRYPTO | SAVINGS | KIDS |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| $100 | $58 | $22 | $9 | $7 | $4 |
| $500 | $290 | $110 | $45 | $35 | $20 |
| $1,000 | $580 | $220 | $90 | $70 | $40 |

The Key Idea: Grow First, Then Flip to Income

This is the part most people miss, and it's what speeds everything up. Your brokerage has two phases, and you don't run them the same way.

Phase 1, Build (now until you're near your number). Point new money at growth funds. Growth compounds faster than high-yield income funds and is more tax-efficient in a taxable account, because you're not paying tax on big monthly payouts you don't need yet.

Phase 2, Flip (about 2 years before you want to quit). Sell growth in long-term-gain chunks and move into monthly-income funds so the account throws off the cash you'll live on. Then you live off what the income funds pay you. You don't keep selling the pile. It stays whole and passes to your kids.

> Buying high-yield income funds from day one feels good (cash hits monthly) but is slower and more taxed while you're building. Grow first, convert near the finish.

Kill Your Debt First

| INTEREST RATE | WHAT TO DO | WHY |
|---|---|---|
| 15%+ | Kill it fast, before investing hard | A guaranteed return the market can't promise |
| 8-14% | Tackle next, smallest balance first | Momentum keeps you going |
| Under 7% | Pay minimums, invest the rest | Diversified investing has historically earned more |

Don't Forget Taxes

Set tax money aside the moment you profit, in a separate savings account. Holding investments over a year qualifies gains for lower long-term rates.

| MONEY FROM | SET ASIDE | NOTES |
|---|---|---|
| Brokerage gains / dividends | 25-30% | Income-fund payouts taxed as ordinary income |
| Crypto gains | 25-30% | Short-term taxed higher than long-term |
| Options / futures / forex | 30% | Mostly ordinary rates |
| Inside Roth / 401(k) / 529 | 0% | Tax-advantaged |

What Consistent Investing Can Do

Illustrative only. Assumes about 10%/yr average. Real returns vary a lot year to year and are never guaranteed.

| $/MONTH | 10 YR | 20 YR | 30 YR | 40 YR |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| $50 | ~$10K | ~$38K | ~$113K | ~$316K |
| $100 | ~$20K | ~$76K | ~$226K | ~$632K |
| $250 | ~$51K | ~$190K | ~$565K | ~$1.6M |
| $500 | ~$102K | ~$380K | ~$1.1M | ~$3.2M |
| $1,000 | ~$205K | ~$759K | ~$2.3M | ~$6.3M |

The biggest lever isn't which fund you pick. It's how much you put in and how long you leave it alone.
